

SCCCW donates to food banks

The South Carolina Council of Catholic Women's Board met virtually in June and discussed the March convention income and expenses. They found they had made substantial profit and decided to donate some of those funds to the food banks throughout the state. Each deanery president received $400 and will determine which food banks in their area will receive the funds. They can give all to one food bank or more than one. The six active SCCCW Deaneries are Beaufort, Charleston, Columbia, Greenville, Myrtle Beach and Rock Hill. The donation will be on behalf of the SCCCW as a way to show support to communities.
